Care before Crisis

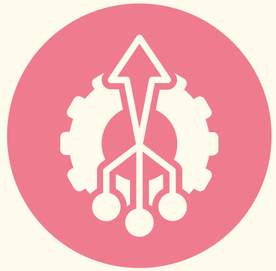
A community-based access and workforce model

The need

Challenges impacting Medi-Cal access, continuity of care and network adequacy

Unmet need: Limited access to in-person behavioral health, wellness and wraparound services

Workforce shortages: Los Angeles faces the same severe pipeline gaps and fragmented services seen nationwide



System bottlenecks: Contracting delays, digital navigation barriers and system bottlenecks slow or prevent timely care.

Introducing ADEii Health

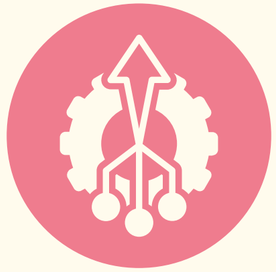
- A designated provider of behavioral health, wellness and wraparound services delivered through adaptable pop-up clinics.
- A workforce engine that builds local talent while meeting public need.
- A secure, integrated data platform powers real-time insights, impact measurement and system strengthening.

The solution

Care Before Crisis, delivered where life happens

Early access: Community-based, in-person support delivered where people already are

Workforce capacity: Supervised, in-community training pathways that grow local talent



Digital System flow: Real-time coordination and navigation that reduces delays and friction

The connection intervention

Big outcomes that happen in small spaces

- Low-barrier Care Stations in everyday spaces
- Immediate, trusted, in-person support
- Warm handoffs when higher care is needed
- Designed to reduce wait time and friction

Everyone is met with dignity and care.
No one is turned away.

The training intervention

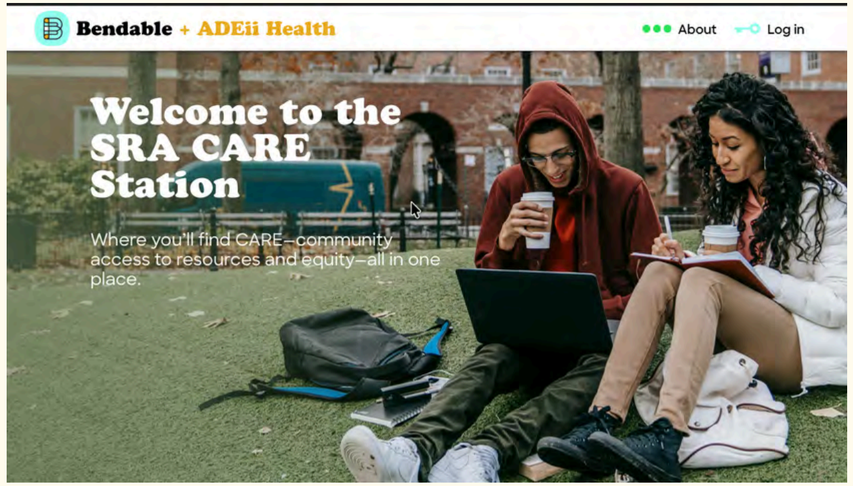
Embedded, real-time learning in community settings

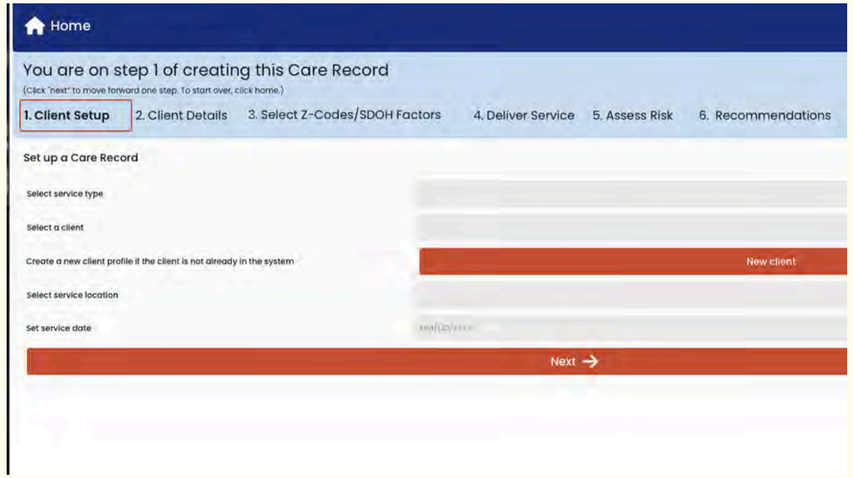
- Community-informed, supervised learning in real-world settings
- Early exposure to behavioral health pathways
- Skills in navigation, coordination and judgment
- Shared infrastructure for oversight and accountability

Building a prepared, supported workforce, responsive to community needs and strengthening behavioral health access over time.

The digital intervention

Big improvements in care are made possible through timely, real-world insight





- Real-time visibility into community needs and pressure points
- Faster coordination, warm handoffs, and follow-up across settings
- Secure, integrated infrastructure aligning care, supervision, and accountability
- Actionable insight and landscape data to inform policy and system decision-making

From early connection to system insight—real-time care delivery that strengthens access, accountability, and decision-making.

The impact

🌿 Health and Stability, One Connection at a Time
Early support leads to more stable and connected communities over time.

🌱 Care Before Crisis
Small interactions prevent big emergencies and crises.

💚 A Hub of Belonging and Opportunity
A predictable, welcoming space where people feel seen, supported, and connected to resources and opportunity.

ADEii would like to ask the commission for direction

We'd welcome the Commission's guidance on which City departments, Council Districts and community anchors would be the strongest match for a pilot — and how ADEii can align our model with your priority health access strategies.
