

Dear Friends and Supporters,

My deepest, most sincere thanks for the wonderful and resounding re-election victory you gave me yesterday. I am humbled by your faith in me. I promise I will honor your trust and do my best to continue to serve the people of the 11th District and of the City of Los Angeles.

The victory you gave me is an impressive one. I garnered 16,728 votes, more than any other incumbent councilmember. Thank you for that honor.

My greatest pleasure as an elected official has been working with people, forming partnerships, solving problems, and empowering my constituents. We have made much progress together in the past four years, but we have much more work to do to promote public safety, end traffic gridlock, fight overdevelopment, protect the environment, and preserve and improve the quality of life in our neighborhoods.

In the weeks and months ahead, the City of Los Angeles is going to face some tough choices as we face harsh fiscal realities. Our partnership must remain strong, so that together we can prioritize key services and find cost savings.

As always, I look forward to being your servant.

Warmest regards,
