

Metrolink Crash Victims Need Blood Donations

On Friday, the nation's deadliest rail crash in 15 years occurred when a Metrolink train collided head-on with a freight train in Chatsworth.

This tragedy has claimed 25 lives and left approximately 150 injured.

Our thoughts and prayers go out to all the victims and their families and friends.

With so many injured in Friday's Metrolink crash, the American Red Cross is asking people to donate blood for the victims. The Red Cross is in need of donations of all blood types.

Eligible donors can schedule an appointment by calling 1-800-give-life, or by visiting the Red Cross website at www.givelife.org. To donate, you must be 17 years or older, healthy, and weigh at least 110 pounds.
