Farm Walk

2009

Sunday, April 19th, 2009

9:30 am to 4:00 pm

Pierce College

(6201 Winnetka Ave. in Woodland Hills)

(Enter the campus off Victory Boulevard at Mason. Parking is Free)

This is the one time of year the 225 acres of green pastures and country roads is open to the public offering a festival of attractions that evoke memories of simpler times.

Horses, sheep, cows and tons of other animals are waiting to greet you.

Join the fun and participate in sheep shearing, wool spinning, cow milking and cowchip bingo. Relax and take a nature walk through a canyon overlooking the city.

For the kids, and the kid in everyone, there will be a petting zoo, exotic animal show, face-painting, hayrides, large farm equipment, fire engines to climb in and plenty more.

Check out the Equestrian Center to watch all kinds of horse activities, which in the past have included roping, Equestrian Drill Team performances and mini horse demonstrations.

Councilmember Dennis P. Zine, who has attended and sponsored the event for the last 6 years, is on the guest list again.

Experienced farm folk, fire fighters and the Forestry Division of the Los Angeles Fire Department, and the groups California Woman for Agriculture and Agriculture in the Classroom will be on hand to answer any questions.

Everyone from toddlers through active seniors can enjoy Pierce's Farmwalk. Remember to wear comfortable shoes and bring sunscreen, sunglasses, hats and cameras.

Contact Vicki Michaelson at 818-710-4253 to buy deeds for cowchip bingo or for more information on this year's Farmwalk.
