MAYOR HAHN ANNOUNCES YOUTH PROGRAM LINK WEBPAGE

LOS ANGELES - In his effort to engage youth in positive after school activities, Mayor Jim Hahn has created a web page that identifies youth-related programs and activities in Los Angeles. The website is part of the Mayor's Los Angeles Safe Neighborhood Action Plan (L.A. SNAP). These programs range from traditional after school recreational sports, homework assistance, specialized leadership training and art and science related programs.

"It is important for our children to have a safe and fun place to go after school," said Mayor Hahn. "This website is a great resource for parents to learn about after school programs in their neighborhood."
