MAYOR HAHN ANNOUNCES CERTIFICATION OF TARZANA NEIGHBORHOOD COUNCIL
Brings Total Neighborhood Councils to 60

LOS ANGELES * Mayor Jim Hahn announced today that the Tarzana Neighborhood Council has completed the certification process, making it the 60th neighborhood council. The Board of Neighborhood Commissioners unanimously approved the application at the Wilbur Avenue Elementary School Tuesday night.

"I congratulate the efforts of the Tarzana Neighborhood Council to organize in a way that creates a valuable forum for all community members to learn about local issues and have a stronger voice in City Hall," said Mayor Hahn.

The Board of Neighborhood Councils Commissioner Tony Lucente also expressed his excitement.

"The new Tarzana Neighborhood Council will represent all the interests of Tarzana including residents, businesses and employees, faith-based and educational organizations, environmental and health organizations, and youth," said Lucente.
