BROWN ACT INFO NOW EASIER TO FIND

Our website contains tons of information about the Brown Act, the state's open meetings law. The problem is that it has been contained in several different places -- Legal Advice, Training, etc.

The information remains in several different places, but to make it easier to find, you know just have to click on Reference Library and then Brown Act. The information should answer all of your questions except, "Who in the world was Ralph M. Brown anyway?"

Newest to the collection is the 20-minute Brown Act training video that was distributed to all Neighborhood Councils many months ago. Now you can view it from the comfort of your favorite computer.
