What are Neighborhood Councils?

LA's 99 Neighborhood Councils are the grassroots level of Los Angeles City government. They represent the voice of their communities at City Hall.

What do NC members do?

LA Neighborhood Councils (NCs) advise City decisionmakers like the City Council and commissions on how City initiatives impact their communities and on the delivery of local services.

Neighborhood Council board members are elected by their communities and serve their terms as volunteers. Most serve two-year terms; a few serve four-year terms. All newly elected NC members take office on July 1, 2023.
